Total Registration Of 587 Establishes New Record

Part of Wartburg's record freshman crop of 213 is taking tests in the Knights gymnasium the day of registration.

By Philip Mueller

Registration of 587 students for the first semester of the 1950-'51 school year established a new high in attendance at Wartburg college.

Although the increase over last year's record of 572 for the same period is not gigantic, it, nevertheless, is significant, since many other colleges are experiencing a drop in attendance over previous years.

Miss Mattie Harms, college registrar, released the totals on Wednesday as they stood at that date. Women, as has been the case in the past, are badly outnumbered again this year, 190 to 397 men.

Freshman Class Largest.

Several years the freshman class has been the largest, and this year's frosh group is no exception, boasting a total membership of 213, which is rather evenly divided into 90 girls and 123 fellows. Sophomores rank next with 48 women and 99 men for an over-all count of 147.

Fittingly enough, the juniors follow with 115 students on their class role, including 21 women and 94 men. To complete the roster of classes, the seniors claim 11 women and 57 men, amounting to 68 prospective graduates.

Iowa 1st, Wis. 2nd.

Iowa, with 276, and Wisconsin with 95 again rank first and second in the number of students claiming those states as home. Surprisingly enough, Illinois took over Minnesota's accustomed third from the top, dropping the Gopher state to fourth. Illinois has sent 56 students to Minnesota's 42.

Rounding out the list of states, North Dakota claims 27 while South Dakota sent 23. Nebraska with 24 finishes the states contributing twenty or over. However, 11 states are yet to be added—Colorado, nine; California and Oklahoma, five each; Kansas, seven; Washington, Ohio, Indiana, Maryland and New York, two apiece, with Pennsylvania and Idaho with one each.

6 From Overseas.

Transfer students totaled 44 in all, 20 women and 24 men. Also this year six foreign students are on campus, three from Estonia and one each from the Philippines, Latvia and Germany.

Representation according to courses is as follows:

Liberal arts, 197; arts-seminary, 151; four-year teachers, 69; two-year teachers, 68; business, 19; parish work, 16; commerce, 11; pre-engineering and pre-medicine, 10 each.

Those courses with fewer than 10 enrolled include music, eight; pre-nursing and social work, five each; laboratory technician, four; pre-forestry, pre-architecture, pre-dentistry and Home Economics, two each, and journalism, chemistry, pre-pharmacy, chemical engineering, pre-law and pre-agriculture, one each.

'Mid-Century Challenge' Is Homecoming Theme

Theme of Wartburg's 1950 Homecoming, "Mid-Century Challenge," was announced this week by General Chairman Leroy Aden, senior. The motto was chosen last spring by the various committee chairmen and definitely adopted this fall.

"I feel that 'Mid-Century Challenge' is the best-suited theme submitted, and expresses well the idea of the difficult days ahead, as well as our obligation to continue the work started in the first half of this century here at Wartburg," commented Aden in expressing the hope that organizations will make their floats tie in with the theme.

Heinecken Is Speaker.

Speaker at the traditional banquet will be Prof. Martin J. Heinecken from Philadelphia. Mr. Heinecken is at present teaching systematic theology at the Lutheran theological seminary in Philadelphia.

Graduating from Wartburg college at Clinton in 1924 and from the seminary at Dubuque in 1927, Mr. Heinecken accepted his first call to Immanuel Lutheran college in North Adelaide, Australia. He later served parishes in Ashland, Wis., and Hebron, Neb. Returning to the teaching profession, he taught religion first at Hebron junior college and later at another Lutheran institution, Wagner college on Staten Island.

His relationship with his alma mater was further kept alive through his marriage to Vera Fritschel, sister of Wartburg's present head of the division of Christianity and philosophy the Rev. Werner Fritschel. Furthermore, his oldest son Ted is now attending Wartburg as a freshman.

Reyelts Toastmaster.

Toastmaster at the banquet will be Larry Reyelts, well-known Wartburg graduate of the class of 1947. Mr. Reyelts has since attended Wartburg seminary, except for a year of internship at Le Mars.

Reyelts is remembered on campus as one of the most active students ever to attend Wartburg. During his stay here he was editor-in-chief of the TRUMPET, president of "W" club, student intramural director and finally student body president in his senior year.

Also active in Iowa Luther League work, Reyelts was district literature secretary in 1947, president of the district from '48 to '50 and was instrumental in developing the first Leadership Training school ever to be held in Iowa. He has also organized the annual Luther League basketball tournament which has been held on the Wartburg campus for the past two years.

Directories To Be Sold Oct. 15 By Alpha Phi

Student directories are scheduled to go on sale about Oct. 15, it was announced this week by Bill Boyken, senior and president of Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Included in the directory will be sections listing students, faculty, staff, committees, class officers and extracurricular organizations.

Sale of these directories is an annual campus project of Alpha Phi Gamma.

Hans Sachs Chooses More New Officers

Remaining officers were selected for the Hans Sachs Verein at the organization's first meeting of the year last Tuesday evening in room 22 of Luther hall.

Marvin Goll, senior, was elected vice-president; John Meister, sophomore, secretary-treasurer, and the Rev. Walter G. Tillmans of the German department, faculty adviser.

Miss Anna Elsa Jacob, also of the German department, and Dr. Jacob Cornils, professor emeritus of German, were voted honorary members of the club.

Herold Heupel, sophomore, was elected president last spring.

Plans Are Proceeding For College Forensics

Plans for a complete forensic program, as another of the various extracurricular activities at Wartburg, are proceeding under the direction of the Rev. Dean Kilgust of the speech department this fall.

First meeting of the debating squad was held last Wednesday, Sept. 20, and subsequent meetings are scheduled on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. at the north end of the stack room of the college library.

Students who have reported thus far will begin work on the fundamentals of debate and discussion immediately. The long range objective of the group is participation to the fullest extent in the program of the Iowa Forensic association.

In calling for more students to take part in the Wartburg forensic program, Mr. Kilgust states that his prime objective is "to make the campus more conscious of the possibilities of developing a complete forensic program, including oratorical and extemporaneous speaking and intercollegiate debate and discussion."

Regulations Given For Med. Program

Regulations for this year's student medical program were announced this week by Mrs. Walter Jackson, Wartburg college nurse.

As in the past, excuses will not be granted to students who are sick unless they contact the nurse on the day of their illness. Mrs. Jackson's office hours are from 7:30 to 11 a.m. and 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. When not in her office, she is on call at the trailer court.

Clinic appointments must also be arranged by Mrs. Jackson. All clinic appointments, except in an emergency, are from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and any student desiring an appointment must first see the nurse.

If a student is sick and the nurse cannot be located, he should notify his respective dean.

Students Are Urged To Note New Rule On Class Absences

Wartburg students are being urged to note carefully the new ruling on absences this year which has been added to the regulation allowing two unexcused absences in a three- or four-hour course and one in a one- or two-hour course.

According to the new student handbook, the rule states that "Whenever the total number of excused and unexcused absences incurred by a student in any course exceeds one-fifth of the total number of class meetings, the student shall be required to drop the course. If extended periods of absence are caused primarily by illness, the dean of students shall be authorized to arrange a program for the student affected in consultation with the instructors concerned."

Purpose of this new regulation, which was adopted by the educational policies committee of Wartburg college on Feb. 8 is to prevent students from becoming involved in too many extracurricular activities, according to Earnest F. Oppermann, dean of students.

"When outside activities force a student to miss more than one-fifth of the class meetings in any course," stated Oppermann, "his grades are almost certain to be affected. It is mainly for this reason that the ruling was made."

After Performance At Student Mixer Band Begins Work

After warming up with performances at the student body mixer and the LaCrosse football game last week, the Wartburg college band has begun preparation for the opening of this year's concert season Saturday, Oct. 7.

At this time, the biennial convention of the United Lutheran church will take place in Des Moines, and both the Wartburg college band and the Luther college band have been asked to present programs.

Immediately after the Des Moines appearance, the band will have Homecoming festivities to look forward to, which include leading the Homecoming parade and presenting music during the football game with special half-time entertainment, foremost of which is the heralding of the queen.

Some nineteen or twenty formal concerts are scheduled for this year. Performing in high school and civic auditoriums throughout southern Iowa, the band will be on the longest extended tour in its history.

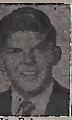
To complete its calendar of scheduled activities, the band plans to present numerous "pop" concerts besides its annual Senior day concert and football, basketball and wrestling entertainments.

"We're looking forward to a fine year in band," commented Edfield Odegard, director, "especially in achievement and loyalty for and to Wartburg college."

Counseling Hours Given

Hours for the student counseling service were announced this week by Dr. William Hulme, college chaplain. The office, located in the Little Theater, will be open every afternoon, Monday through Thursday, from 2 to 5.

Wuebbens-Peterson Vows Set Tomorrow Afternoon



Roy Peterson

Marj Wuebbens

Wedding plans for Roy Peterson, junior, and Marjorie Wuebbens, who attended Wartburg last year and is now working in the Public Relations office, have been completed this week, and the couple will be married tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m. at St. Paul's.

Officiating at the ceremony will be Dr. William E. Hulme, student chaplain. The bride will be attended by her two sisters, Fran and Tenni. Fran is a freshman here this year. Miss Wuebbens will be given away by her brother, Everett, sophomore transfer student from the Annapolis Naval Academy.

Best man to the groom will be Paul Olson, junior from Strawberry Point. Groomsman for the occasion is Mr. Ed Suckow, brother-in-law of Peterson.

Reception after the ceremony, to be held in the Wartburg hall lounge, as well as the wedding itself, is open to all students, according to the bride.

Couple will take their honeymoon in Wisconsin at the groom's home until Peterson joins the armed services. He is in the army reserves and will have to report to his training camp Oct. 2. The bride's plans for the future are unsettled, depending largely upon where her husband will be stationed.

Grossmann Council Elected Wednesday

Grossmannites elected their dorm council at their first meeting last Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. in the lounge. Presiding was Robert Herder, senior, elected chairman of the council last spring.

Representatives from first floor will be Floyd Olsen, sophomore, and Robert Lynne, sophomore; second floor elected Ivan Amman, junior, and Harold Oetschlager, junior whereas third floor chose Robert Lehmann, senior, and John DeYoung, senior.

First Choir Faces Full Year And Tour With 23 Additions

With the final selection of personnel completed, the 52-voice Wartburg choir again faces a full year of activity as well as an extensive tour, according to Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director of the a cappella group.

In addition to the 29 returning members, 23 new voices make up the group. Among the newcomers are Nadine Eske, Mary Warnke, Irma Chapman, Joan Haven and Marian Wolkenhauer, sopranos; Sigrid Becker, Betty Boebel, Delores Dehn, Anne Marie Leo, Ruth Meyer, Marcella Petersen and Marie Schiffler, altos.

Male section received reinforcement by the addition of Derald Rice, Lloyd Ziebarth, Herman Diers, Orin Grube and George Gundacker, tenors, and basses Ray DeWeerth, Marvin Hartman, Elmo Hinrichs, Ralph Schwake, Bernard Siefken and Richard Wix.

Winner of the Diamond Jubilee scholarship this year was Miss Petersen, native of Rockwell.

Dates for the annual concert tour have been set for the period between March 25 and April 8, 1951. The trip will take the choir through northern Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and possibly parts of Canada.

Sophs And Juniors Hold Class Meets

Sophomore class election was held and junior class nominations received when each class held its first meeting of the year Monday night in various rooms about campus.

Everett Wuebbens was elected vice-president of the sophomore class. Other officers chosen were Mary Alexander, secretary and Bonnie Balke, treasurer. Gilbert Nass was elected to the Student Senate, replacing Maurice Lapp who did not return to Wartburg this year.

Nominated for the office of junior class vice-president were Harold Wienke, Herb Hildebrandt and Howard Rand. Jean Winnie and Lois Burmeister were nominated for secretary, and Dean Pilgrim, Richard Wiltshire and Melvin Blobaum for treasurer.

Presidents Vic Wenger of the sophomore class and Dick Swensen of the junior class were elected last spring.

Gremmels Winner In National Contest

Bob Gremmels, junior and managing editor of the TRUMPET, received word last week that he has been awarded third place and a cash prize of $20 in the Intercollegiate Association editorial contest for 1950.

Subject for this year's contest was "Social Pressure Against Alcohol" and the title of Gremmels' editorial, "So You're Going to College." Winning editorials, together with a full report of the contest, will be published in the November issue of "International Student," official publication of the Intercollegiate association.

The editorial was written as part of the requirements of the second semester course in reporting last year.

This was Gremmels' first venture into the field of editorial writing, which may explain his only comment, "Beginner's luck!"

Fortress Meeting Called

First regular meeting of the Fortress staff will be held next Monday, Sept. 25, at 8 p.m. in room 21 in Luther hall, according to Don Groskreutz, editor of the annual.

Let's Keep Calm

One of the most frequently debated controversies on campus the past week has been the question concerning the curtailment of women's hours. The TRUMPET is this week printing a letter to the editor written by an upperclassman and endorsed by 93 Wartburg men. This should prove at least that the question is one of great interest to many students on campus.

The TRUMPET does not usually make a practice of participating in controversies carried on through letters to the editor. The reason for this is plain enough—it is better for a paper such as ours to assume the role of disinterested spectator. The main function of our column "From Our Readers" is to provide an outlet and a neutral ground on which such questions can be argued out.

We Must Contribute Facts.

It is our duty, however, to contribute as much as possible to the clarification of the issues, so that discussion may be carried on as intelligently as possible. It is only when the interested parties are in full possession of all the facts that groundwork has been laid on which constructive action can be taken. It is for this reason that we are printing here a comparison of the hours which women had to observe last year and those which went into effect this fall:

	School Days		Fridays		Saturdays		Sundays
	1949	1950	1949	1950	1949	1950	1949	1950
Freshmen	8:00	8:00	11:00	11:00	12:00	11:00	10:00	10:00
Sophomores	9:30	9:30	11:00	11:30	12:00	11:00	10:00	10:00
Juniors	10:00	10:30	12:00	11:30	12:00	11:30	10:30	10:30
Seniors	10:00	10:30	12:00	11:30	12:30	11:30	10:30	10:30

Furthermore, the number of lates have been reduced considerably and the hours on the same shortened from 2 a.m. to 12 midnight.

If one consults the table, he will find that the most serious curtailment is the shortening of Saturday night hours. Here the cut ranges from one-half hour for juniors to one hour for all other classes. This, it seems, is not so serious a loss of privilege as some would like to make it appear.

Cut In Late Leaves More Serious.

What seems more serious is the drastic reduction in late leaves. It is here that the shoe really hurts, for 12 midnight deadlines make it practically impossible for women to attend the types of cultural and educational entertainment which Waverly can not offer sufficiently and for which Cedar Falls or Waterloo afford further opportunity.

These special privileges occupy a high place in the life of college women. They mean practical experience in the life for which all of us are being trained. They provide an opportunity for assuming gradually the responsibility which later life will force upon us without question, and for which we should be prepared. The question may well be asked, "Are not college women, and especially college juniors and seniors grown women who can be trusted far enough to be able to 'toe the line' without quite such restrictive measures of protection?"

What Are College 'Men' And 'Women'?

Perhaps our whole concept of what college-age men and women are—whether they are really "men" and "women"—needs overhauling. Perhaps we must realize that our age demands of young people hardly out of their teens a degree of "grownupness" which ten or fifteen years ago twenty-five-year-olds were hardly expected to exhibit. This is a question, however, which affects not only women's hours at Wartburg but the whole attitude of the older toward the younger generation.

Meanwhile the specific question here under discussion is being considered by Student Senate as part of that body's normal function of representing the student body. It may be well to trust that our elected representatives will be able to handle their job. More facts are needed, yes, and they are being obtained. Until further developments are made public it may be well to suspend judgment and refrain from wild guesses and accusations. Situations such as the present one usually clear up if they are handled wisely and with cool heads.

Good Luck!

The TRUMPET has a double job of congratulations to do this week. First and most important of all, our sincerest wishes and thanks go to President and Mrs. C. H. Becker, who are celebrating their 31st wedding anniversary today. We feel sure that we are speaking for all members of the Wartburg family when we say:

"Good luck, and may the next 31 years see both of you remain at our school. We need you."

Second on the list are Marj Wuebbens and Roy Peterson, who will be married tomorrow afternoon at St. Paul's. Unfortunately, Roy will have to enter the service soon after the wedding. We therefore feel that in this case also we are echoing the feeling of the entire student body by saying "Good Luck!"

U. S. Needs Statesmen, Not Politicians

By Wayne Stumme

Today the United States finds itself in a position of world leadership. Every country that has not been enveloped by communism looks to America for guidance, and places its trust in the wisdom and courage of our national government. Upon its constancy of purpose, upon its clearness of vision, our allies in this great ideological struggle stake their continued existence as free nations.

Yet we often find little of farsighted administration and intelligent administration in these places of great responsibility. While the world is in danger of being consumed in the greatest conflagration of all time, little men, occupying the big seats of the elected and appointed representatives of the United States, play at the petty game of party politics. Vilification and slander often absorb the energies of congressmen who would be far better occupied if they would attempt to solve some of the gigantic problems facing this country and the world.

Small men, yes, but when we regard the magnitude of the crisis now confronting us, their incompetence, insincerity and, in some cases, outright dishonesty, are actually criminal.

Some of our leaders have shown themselves to be fools, but others have been convicted of a far worse offense—treason. That national policy and practice have been subverted, distorted and betrayed by men in offices of public trust is the bitter truth. Individuals of a disillusioned generation, their allegiance was undermined by insidious Marxism. It is probably safe to say that even now all of the conspirators have not been pulled forth from their dark holes in our administrative structure.

Whether the fault be only an indiscretion or a more censurable error, the American people have the right to demand competent and loyal leadership. Not just men who will fill the technical requirements for the positions but officials whose integrity, honesty and vision qualify them for the highest responsibility.

In the face of a strong demand for such leaders by the voting public, both major parties would almost certainly have to bring men in their ranks forward who possessed these finer qualities. If, however, neither party could or would produce such individuals, then it would again be time for a new party, founded on definite principles of service and responsibility, to spring up from the very "grass roots" of American political life and to produce capable and consecrated leadership.

All democratic and peace-loving peoples everywhere have fastened their eyes upon the leaders of America and the free world. They, together with Americans, expect these men to be statesmen not functionaries and bureaucrats. Their welfare and ours, freedom and representative government and all we hold sacred—all depend upon these stewards of the public trust. Let us, as citizens and Christians, do all in our power to assure the country and the world of the best possible leadership, both domestically and internationally.

Forty Winks

With Wienke

Fall arrives and our thoughts turn naturally to football, the autumn equinox and Outfly. Which brings us to democracy, a state wherein Student Body President Fintel inquires of Chairman "Abie" Gundacker concerning the exact date of Outfly, and is politely refused—for security reasons.

Slaves, arise! Throw off your bonds! Uncle Joe offers you educational advantages equal to those you now have, plus hours for girls comperable to those of last year.

This columnist has for sale a limited supply of the handbook "Military Courtesy and Etiquette For Girls." Seriously, though, granting that current regulations were put into effect with the best of intentions, the existing order seems not unlike that of a regimented society with which we have been associated.

Students might do well to attend the Wartburg Players' picnic today at 4 p.m. The campus Thespians are committing mayhem upon the work of a fairly well-known writer, Shakespeare.

Little Known Facts About Personalities Department— We learned at a press banquet last spring that scholarly Dr. Haefner was at one time the humor editor for the Wartburg student publication.

We observe that numerous new courses have been added to the curriculum, among them ROTC for men of the freshman class, conducted through the courtesy of upperclassmen.

Back At Wartburg

Kathryn Counts Gains

From NEA Convention

By Vineta Carlin

"Many of the benefits from the Institute at Washington will remain to be uncovered. I have already gained an increased appreciation of my chosen profession and a realization of its scope and purpose.

"Rubbing shoulders, exchanging ideas and talking to teachers from all over the United States reminds one of the grave responsibilities involved in teaching."

Attends Washington Convention.

In these words Kathryn Aden, sophomore, summarized her impressions of a fortnight as Wartburg's representative at the Institute of organized leadership of the Future Teachers of America, held in Washington, D. C., from July 24 to Aug. 18.

A total of 83 education majors attended the convention, which consisted largely of classes on the history and structure of the National Education association, as well as instruction in parliamentary procedure and public speaking.

Interest Gains Appointment.

Kathryn's activities in the F. T. A. here led her to a seat on the Iowa State Board of Directors, as a result of her election as secretary of the Northeast region at the meeting last autumn in Cedar Falls. Her interest in the organization gained her the appointment to the Washington convention.

Standing five feet, six inches in height, and weighing 130 pounds, Kathryn insists that her hair is not blond but rather light brown. The ambitious expression in her hazel-colored eyes speaks of her cheerful, hard-working disposition.

'Be Friend to Pupils.'

As to her attitude toward her chosen profession, she explains emphatically. "I hope to teach democratically and be a friend to my pupils, rather than a machine guided by tradition. I want to give the children something for their daily living, even after their school days are past."

Incidentally, the prospective tutor hopes to teach fourth or fifth grade mathematics or English. On campus, she keeps busy by belonging to Pi Sigma in addition to her continued duties in F. T. A. She also leads one of the Sunday school classes at St. Paul's every week, thus already putting into practice her avowed ideals.

From Our Readers

Dear Editor:

Wartburg students are nearly unanimous in their criticism of regulations concerning hours girls must keep this semester. Young as the school year is, considerable controversy has already arisen as to the reason for the radical change made since last term.

Last year freshmen girls were trusted with a certain number of "lates" per semester right at the start. Nothing serious developed from that policy, at least as far as is known. Why, then, the abrupt cancellation of all such privileges this fall?

Is this year's student less trustworthy, more immature than those who matriculated last fall? High school girls three and four years younger have much more freedom than does Wartburg's fairer sex.

Our coaches, pep leaders and all loyal Knights constantly plead for more support at athletic contests. Why cannot all students attend out-of-town games, organizational meetings, Luther League or any other activities if they so desire?

Because of chapel in the evening, classes, extracurricular activities and jobs during the day, many freshmen girls find their library privileges definitely restricted, having to be in by 8 p.m. In all fairness, an adjustment should be made here.

We are told in the catalog that "in the spirit of Wartburg the student will find a challenge to a high and noble life." We ask, where is the challenge under existing conditions? Is there a challenge when any sense of self-discipline and self-responsibility is squelched?

Is our Wartburg to become an institution resembling a convent, or will it remain a school where one's love for the Lord guides his every action?

Please, let's have a definite explanation and the reasonable adjustment the girls deserve!

Signed:
93 Aroused Knights

Coaches Hopeful Before Winona Tilt

By Chuck Lutz

"We'll try to hold them to 50 points," volunteered Head Coach "Nellie" Nelson last Thursday when approached about the Winona game coming up tonight.

To this, Assistant Coach "Earnie" Opperman replied, "It is always my philosophy to score one more point than the the opposition in any sport."

"Ax" Bundgaard, Nelson's other right-hand man, apparently didn't care to voice his opinion. The coaches want it understood, however, that they are not predicting a 50-51 Wartburg victory.

A Few Hours Will Tell.

At any rate, a few more hours will tell us whether or not the Knights will be a .500 ball club when they enter conference competition against Loras next week. Wartburg won 18-0 last year in the initial contest of the series with the Minnesota state teachers college.

Winona won't be shut out so easily tonight, however, as the Tutors are at home this time and have 20 lettermen back. Eau Claire teachers of Wisconsin knocked off Winona last week, 13-0, as Wartburg lost to LaCrosse, 31-0.

New Offensive Unit.

Even though they faced a strong opponent, the Orange and Black made a rather poor showing last week. Coach "Nellie" began drills this week with an almost entirely new offensive unit.

"Lighter men will give us more speed in our offensive line. The heavy boys will probably see more action on defense," said Nelson.

"Nellie" intends to use a single wing offense tonight, although he is still relying on the modified box somewhat. According to Nelson, the passing against LaCrosse looked better than at any time last season.

"We don't know how much passing we will do against them, since it depends on what type of defense they throw at us."

Need Sideline Support.

Best way to make sure that the Knights break into the win column tonight is to follow them north and give them sideline support.

Only one of the injuries of the LaCrosse game will affect tonight's starting lineup. "Bud" Rowray, Waverly sophomore, will remain jury. He has been replaced at fullback because of a knee injury by Erv Hanus. The probable starting lineup is below:

Pos.	Name	Wt.
LE	Mullen	200
LT	Reeg	195
LG	Woods	190
C	Becker	185
RG	Reasland	180
RT	Mueller	190
RE	Steinhauer	195
QB	Price	170
LH	Sowers	170
RH	Kittleson	170
FB	Hanus	225

Steinhauer Veep Of Lettermen

Election of Fritz Steinhauer as vice-prexy, Bob Campbell as secretary and Ray Bareis as treasurer highlighted the first regular meeting of the "W" club last Tuesday night in the Knights gymnasium.

According to Eldon Reeg, president elected last spring, the organization plans to continue its weekly nominations for "Athlete of the Week" honors. As in past years, the distinction will go to the varsity player who has shown up best in competition during the preceeding week.

Also continued this year will be a practice instituted last fall—the election of fall, winter and spring sports queens from the ranks of Wartburg co-eds.

Reeg announced that initiation for prospective "W" club members will be held in the near future.

Men's Intramurals Start With Football

Men's intramural football will begin Monday at North field with two games at 4 p.m. and a single contest at 5 p.m. according to Erv Dohmeier, intramurals chairman. Six areas have been formed, each with a captain to round up interest.

Men to see in Grossmann hall are Al Braunschweig, team head for first floor; Bob Rodewald for second floor and Bob Lehmann, for third. George Gundacker has charge of North hall's entry; Richard Warber is captain for Northwest, and Lloyd Kelly will manage Southwest.

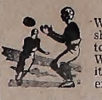
Trailer camp is a part of Southwest area this year, and the boys living in annexes play for Northwest or Southwest, depending on where they live.

Games Monday evening include Grossmann I against Northwest and Grossmann II versus Grossmann III, both at 4 p.m. At 5 p.m. North hall boys will meet Southwest. Schedule for the remainder of the 10-round season will be posted early next week.

Teams may win points this year on a basis similar to that used last fall. Each victory counts five points, and one point is added to an area total for each man participating.

Speaking Of Sports

By Freddie



In the third quarter of the LaCrosse Wartburg tussle the Knights' nine-man line showed some of the fight that will be needed tonight when they meet the Warriors from Winona, Minn. Our boys were big enough, but it seems that they lacked some of the Teachers' enthusiasm.

Last week before the LaCrosse game, Joe Baumgartner conducted a prediction contest of his own. The winner was Russ Hendrickson, former Wartburg student and Fortress sports editor. This week Russ should be here to predict a win for the Knights, possibly 6-0.

Rumors have it that the Loras gridiron squad will be mighty rugged this season. Only two of the first string men have graduated, and they have been replaced by capable freshmen. The Knights will have a fast and shifty team to battle in the opening conference game Sept. 27.

This season the Norsemen from Luther have a new coach, Wally Johnson, and a great high school star, Hamlet Peterson, Jr., who will probably start at quarterback. After the non-conference opening with LaCrosse, we are wondering how tough they will be.

Last year the Nelsonmen steamrolled Winona 18-0 in the first home game of the season. Things might be different this year as the Teachers have twenty lettermen on this year's roster.

Enlarged Cheering Squad To Use Two-Team System

Enlarged cheerleading squad for Wartburg's '50-'51 sports season was chosen last Thursday night at the tryouts in the Knights gymnasium.

Head rooters this year will number eight instead of four as during past years, according to an announcement made by Miss Adeline Langrock, adviser. These eight will perform on a two-team basis of four to a team.

Veterans back in the lineup from last year include Dorothy Blitgen, sophomore, Richard Wiltshire, junior, and Bill Hintz, senior. These three will form the cadre around which the squad will be built.

Newcomers this year are freshmen Donna Fredericksen, Joanne Schmidt and Marilyn Wilder, and sophomores Lenore Langrock and Myrna Dreier. All except Miss Langrock have had previous cheerleading experiences.

Cheerleaders will not be traveling with the team to out-of-town games, according to Miss Langrock, except for the tilt with Upper Iowa university at Oelwein Oct. 19. The rooters will see action for the first time during the Homecoming game against Buena Vista, Oct. 14, at 2 p.m.

Several new cheers were introduced Thursday night by some of the newcomers and may be tried out at the Homecoming game.

"I sincerely hope that with this enlarged squad, we will be able to promote the type of sideline support which our team so badly needs," added Miss Langrock.
